

CORRUPTION BETWEEN INDIVIDUALS (ARTICLES 287 BIS AND 287 TER OF THE CRIMINAL CODE)

ART. 287 bis.

The employee or representative who requests or accepts to receive an economic benefit or otherwise of another nature for himself or a third party, to favor or have favored in the exercise of his duties the contracting with one offerer over another will be sanctioned with the penalty of minor imprisonment in its middle grade and fine of the double of the requested or accepted benefit. If the benefit is of a different nature from the economic one, the fine will be from fifty (50) to five hundred (500) tax units per month.

ART.287

ter.

The one who gives, offers or consents in giving an employee or agent an economic benefit or of another nature, for himself or a third party, so that he favors or has favored the contracting with one offerer over another, will be punished with the penalty of minor imprisonment in its middle degree for the case of the benefit given or offered; or minor imprisonment in its minimum degree, in the case of the consented benefit. In addition, it will be sanctioned with the penalties of fines indicated in the preceding article.
